

Gallery Libby Sellers
presents

by Fabien Cappello

Gallery Libby Sellers invites you to have your treasured Christmas tree up-cycled after the holidays into a unique and handsome, hand-crafted Christmas Tree Stool by designer Fabien Cappello.

The Christmas Tree Project – a continuation of Cappello's 2009 graduation work from the Royal College of Art – will see a few of the estimated million pre-loved trees that will be turned out onto the streets of London rekindled into silky smooth stools. If you do not possess a tree to begin with we will rescue one to use for your stool.

For the perfect Christmas gift, order your Christmas Tree Stool now and we will arrange a festive 'holding card', designed by Studio Frith, to give in advance of the actual present, which will of course arrive after the holidays. Tree collections will be made in the Greater London area over two days around 6 January 2011. Prices from £400.

For information and orders please contact

A percentage of profit from the Christmas Tree Project will be donated to the Woodland Trust.
