

CULTURED

SPRING 2013

DESIGN | ART | FASHION

"I enjoy simple, beautiful things."
—Zsa Zsa

$10 U.S.

The fifth annual Dallas Art Fair introduces a new element this year, Field Day, in collaboration with Nathalie Karg's Cumulus Studios. As part of the festivities, visitors are invited to play lawn games designed by contemporary artists Kenny Scharf, Mark Dion, Tom Burr, Massimo Bartolini, Aaron Young and Adam McEwen. April 12-14, dallasartfair.com

Swing, by Aaron Young, 2009

Los Angeles gallery David Kordansky presents "Hard-Edge Paintings 1963-1966," by artist Sam Gilliam, a revolutionary figure in postwar American art. The show, curated by artist Rashid Johnson, explores how Gilliam pushed Color Field painting to new heights. March 28-May 11, davidkordanskygallery.com

6

GALLERY LIBBY SELLERS

presents "8 Chairs," an exhibition by London-based creative duo Clarke & Reilly. Self-described as "unashamedly romantic and tirelessly imaginative," the duo are known for their original transformations of furniture. For "8 Chairs," eight historical pieces of furniture were reinvented with period fabrics to represent a specific character in time. The transformed pieces were then left out in icy weather conditions in London, before being exposed to the scorching sun in the California desert. The consequences of forces, both man made and those found in nature, all documented through film and photography, will be displayed alongside the chairs at the gallery. March 14-April 26, libbysellers.com

Theme of Five I, by Sam Gilliam, 1965

