LONDON DESIGN FESTIVAL

Anchored by the 100% Design fair, this citywide festival boasts dozens of events, exhibits and installations. At the Old Sorting Office, the group show Designjunction - a returning favourite - hosts furniture launches by such top-notch brands as Italy's Poltrona Frau, Germany's E15, and Sweden's String, which debuts an MDF shelving system finished with white ash brackets (right) that reflects Scandinavian simplicity. On the other side of the Thames, the gallery of talent spotter Libby Sellers exhibits Amy Hunting and Oscar Narud's mirrors (far right). In copper, steel and stone, they embody a material mash-up in elemental shapes. londondesignfestival.com

IIDEX TORONTO

For designers and architects looking to jazz up office interiors, Canada's contract furniture and architecture expo delivers the goods. Showgoers will find the latest in task lighting, coverings and flexible furniture for the workplace, from such brands as Keilhauer, Interface, and Nienkämper, which presents Shanghai architecture firm Four-O-Nine's folded steel lounge chair (left). Eventscape, which recently produced a neon-hued display for a sneaker exhibit at Toronto's Bata Shoe Museum (far left), will show off its flexible, lightweight wall panels. The keynote speakers are also must-sees: among the illustrious speakers are Italian designer Luca Nichetto; and Charles Renfro of Diller Scofidio + Renfro, the architecture firm behind New York's High Line. ## CERSAIE BOLOGNA

Showcasing an unrivalled selection of bathroom fittings and ceramic tiles, Cersaie boasts its longest exhibitor list this year. More than 900 manufacturers - mostly Italian - will present innovative surface finishes and fixtures for bathrooms and kitchens. Keep your eyes peeled for trendsetting products, including Floor Gres' three-metre-long planks, inspired by concrete factory floors; and Artermateria's petrified wood bricks in white, beige and grey (right). An exhibit of the top 110 tile and sanitary furnishings from the past 15 years rounds out the five-day affair. cersaie.it
